

PRESS RELEASE

Vigilance Santé: a new single shareholder

By acquiring all the voting and participating shares in Vigilance Santé, Andrée-Anne Chevalier officially takes over the reins of the company.

Repentigny, September 10, 2024 – Vigilance Santé is proud to announce that Andrée-Anne Chevalier, President since 2020 and daughter of founder Raymond Chevalier, has now become the sole shareholder and President of the company her father founded over 30 years ago. This generational transition is not only guided by a clear vision for growth and innovation but also stays true to the company's heritage, ensuring the continuity of the values and mission that have driven its success.

Through the development of innovative reference and analysis software focused on drug therapy, Vigilance Santé has become an invaluable asset for its partners as well as front-line healthcare professionals across Canada. In addition to expanding the company's presence in Canada, Ms. Chevalier is committed to launching an ambitious effort to enter the U.S. market in the coming years.

"I'm honoured to follow in my father's footsteps and lead Vigilance Santé forward, while staying true to our family roots. We are ready to take on future challenges with the same passion and commitment that have driven our success over the years," said Andrée-Anne Chevalier.

"I'm delighted to know that Vigilance Santé will continue to grow and develop under the guidance of a skilled and inspiring manager, and that the company I built will be ready to soar on its own wings, supported by a dynamic and extremely knowledgeable team", mentioned Raymond Chevalier.

Vigilance Santé will continue to develop solutions that meet the needs of healthcare professionals, while exploring new business opportunities and markets, and further strengthening its commitment to excellence.
